DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In the specification on page 14 "a pair of fixing members (12)" is set forth. On page 15 "fixing members (24)" are set forth. In claim 1, line 3 "a pair of fixing members" is claimed, the Examiner assumes these are fixing members (12). In claim 1, lines 13 and 16 a "fixed member" is claimed, is this fixing members (24) or something else.

In claim 1, line 4 "installations members" are claimed. These installation members are set forth in page 8, line 7 of the specification but they are not given reference numbers so it is not clear what they are in relation to the drawings.

Regarding claim 10, the phrase "etc." renders the claim(s) indefinite because the claim(s) include(s) elements not actually disclosed (those encompassed by "or the like"), thereby rendering the scope of the claim(s) unascertainable.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

Art Unit: 3725

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1 and 5-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ishimoto et al. (4,188,809). Ishimoto discloses a shape detecting device comprising a pair of fixing members (10), a support frame (9) and a shape detecting unit. The shape detecting unit comprises a cylindrical divided roll (11) in contact with a rolled plate (6), a fixed member (14) having a mounting arm which is fixed on the support frame (9). The fixed member is a roller bearing which supports the divided roll (11) on a shaft (8). The divided roll is adjusted in height and angle by adjusting means (12) which move the support frame (9). The shaft (8) contacts the divided rolls and is driven in rotation through bearings in the fixed member (14).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 2-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ishimoto et al. (4,188,809) in view of Adolfsson et al. (4,972,706). Ishimoto does not disclose that the shape detecting device is put in place of a looper. Adolfsson teaches that it is known to provide a flatness measuring device in a looper. The flatness measuring device is set at an end of looper arms (3) having a center of rotation. It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time of invention to mount the shape detecting device of Ishimoto on existing looper arms as taught by Adolfsson in order to use existing loopers in a rolling mill line for shape detection.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
